

Marshall Calls for U. N. Talks

Delegates to Discuss Policy That U. S. Will Pursue in Parley Starting Tuesday To Name Experts

Balkans, Palestine, Veto, Among Major Points to Consider

By JOHN A. PARRIS, Jr.
New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall summoned his 10-member U. N. delegation for a series of conferences here today to lay down the policy the United States will pursue on the Balkans, Palestine, the veto and other issues in the United Nations Assembly meeting to start Tuesday.

Marshall, who arrived by train from Washington last night, scheduled his first conference for 9:30 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, when he was to assign delegates formally to various assembly committees.

An American spokesman said that because of so many major issues, Marshall would not attempt to carry the load alone on the 55-nation political committee but would assign other delegates to specific issues as they came before that body.

In the past, the U. S. has been represented on this important committee by only one or two delegates for the entire session. The spokesman explained that to operate more smoothly the State Department had decided to assign experts on certain issues like the Balkans and the big-power veto in the Security Council to handle them rather than to place the load on one person.

Important Session

The importance with which the U. S. views the coming assembly session at Flushing Meadow Park was seen in the fact that Marshall came here to direct personally the American strategy.

Marshall is to be the second among the 55 chief delegates to speak in the assembly's general debate. He will follow Mexico's representative to lay down basic U. S. policy next Wednesday.

But there was a possibility that he might give some hint before then of the U. S. stand in the assembly on the explosive Balkan and Palestine issues. Should he do so, most observers expected it to come tomorrow when he addresses a luncheon session of the American Association for the United Nations.

American sources, however, made it clear that the U. S. was prepared to hold a strong line during the assembly session and perhaps take a commanding spot early.

In this connection, it was reported authoritatively yesterday that there was a "good chance" the U. S. delegation would try to lend its good efforts in settling the Anglo-Japanese dispute in the Security Council, where Egypt is demanding the withdrawal of British troops from Suez Canal posts and the termination of Britain's mandate over the Sudan.

Thus far the U. S. has refrained from taking a leading position in the dispute, which the council has been unable to settle.

Johnson for Palestine

It was disclosed also that if the U. N. decided to establish a special assembly committee to handle the Palestine problem, Deputy Delegate Herschel V. Johnson would be assigned to represent the United States.

Meanwhile, Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian minister for external affairs, arrived for the assembly session and launched an angry slashing attack on Russia's veto.

Evatt told a news conference yesterday "temporary paralysis" had crippled the 11-nation Security Council as a result of utilization of the veto power.

Noting that Australia and other middle and small nations had fought in San Francisco to give the 55-nation assembly more power an prestige, Evatt declared:

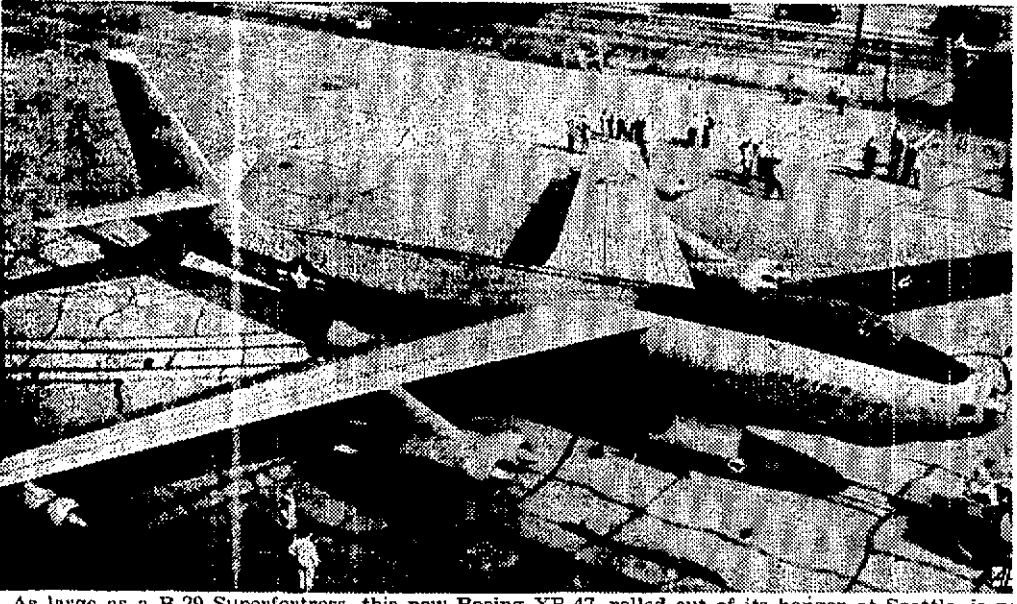

"The events of the past two years have clearly demonstrated what was then feared and predicted—that because of the right of veto, the Security Council would be unable to take effective action even in the peaceful settlement of many disputes and in the discharge of other functions allotted to it.

"There is no reason why the assembly should succumb to the spirit of defeatism which has been created in many quarters as a result of the Security Council finding itself unable to reach decisions."

Too Lenient, He Says

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 13 (AP)—The chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities says he believes that through "coddling tactics, we have allowed the Russian government to set up within the United States the most elaborate, the most extensive espionage network ever to operate here."

Boy Scout Drive Opened In Rosendale Friday Night

The annual kick-off dinner for the Boy Scout Campaign in Rosendale took place Friday night at 6:30 at the Grange Hall in Rosendale. About 40 men and women were present. This marked the beginning of the drive under the chairmanship of John J. Mooney, Neighborhood Scout Commissioner, to raise a share of the operating funds needed by the Ulster-Greene Council which serves this territory.

The women provided a very delicious dinner, and the fellowship was enjoyed by everyone. Mr. Mooney, who has taken charge of the campaign for a number of years, was the presiding officer. The Rev. Albert H. Shultis offered the invocation and made a short address. Father John F. Kelly gave a prayer of thanks after the meal and urged the men and women to do their best for the benefit of the boys in the community.

Mr. Mooney then gave his instructions to the campaigners and outlined the methods for the brief period of the drive. Ralph Dewey of Tilton, vice-chairman of the Kingston District of the Council, was an honored guest of the occasion and was accompanied by D. L. Christiansa, also of Tilton.

Clarence L. Dumm, principal of Kingston High School and president of the Ulster-Greene Council, was the special guest of honor. Mr. Dumm made a short stirring

Consumer Resistance Grows As Officials Express Views on the Causes

Chicago, Sept. 13 (AP)—The nation's basic food prices, despite some recent recessions, today were near the all-time peak reached after the first World War and debate over the high cost of living also appeared near a crescendo.

At the country's primary markets yesterday there were price declines in butter, hogs, wheat, corn, oats and lamb—and consumers watched today to see if the downward trend would continue.

But eggs still were selling for $1 a dozen in some cities; choice steaks were $1 a pound and higher and butter continued to sell near and over $1 a pound.

There was organized consumer resistance in many cities and government and other officials expressed their views on the causes of the cost of living and offered suggestions to combat the high prices.

Secretary of Commerce Harrison said in Washington that the high level of food prices were due more to Americans bidding against each other than to export shipments.

The present high prices are due primarily to the fact that this nation is now enjoying an all-time record of prosperity, the commerce secretary said. He added that "it is hardly fair to blame exports for the general high level of food prices which exist today."

The high cost of living, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said in Santa Cruz, Calif., may be a prime political issue in next year's national elections. He said prices were high mainly because of the "tremendous domestic consumption of foodstuffs," and his answer to the high cost of living was "eat less, and eat less extravagantly." Taft said he was opposed to a return of government price controls.

But in New York, a spokesman for the New York League of Women Shoppers said: "We feel we must fight now for a return to price controls and rationing."

August Milk Price Is Set at $4.43 for New York Milkshed

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York Metropolitan Marketing Area, announced yesterday that dairymen would receive a uniform price of $4.43 per hundredweight for August milk deliveries to the 436 pool-approved plants in the New York milkshed.

The August producer butterfat differential will be 6.6 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard, Blanford announced.

The August return this year is 19 cents below August, 1946, when the uniform price was $3.98 per hundredweight and a "super-pool" premium of 64 cents increased the return to $4.62, Blanford said.

For the first time since January, the administrator said, the consumption of fluid milk last month in New York City and the counties of Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk was above that of last year.

Blanford said utilization of this class of milk rose from 255,970,666 pounds to 260,624,227 pounds, an increase of 1.82 per cent.

Sales of milk from the New York milkshed last month to other market areas under federal regulation totaled 285,404 pounds, compared with sales of 568,566 pounds in August, 1946, a decrease of 49.63 per cent. Sales of milk to markets not under federal regulation dropped 8,751,112 pounds, or 17.78 per cent, Blanford added.

Total fluid milk consumption decreased from 305,765,636 pounds in August, 1946, to 304,385,623 pounds in August, 1947, a drop of 4.3 per cent, because of the decreases in the two latter classes.

Last month, receipts of milk at pool plants totaled 486,505,732 pounds, or 19,602,577 pounds more than deliveries of 466,903,155 pounds by 46,573 producers in August, 1946.

Blanford said the total farm value of last month's production was $22,264,038, composed of $21,952,203 at the uniform price of $4.43 and $311,834 in butterfat and location premiums.

Legion Wants All-Time Administrator for V. A.

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—The American Legion with its recommendation to President Truman that he name a veterans administrator who will make the job "his life work."

National Commander James I. O'Neil, announcing this yesterday, said the V. A. "hasn't been completely satisfactory to the veterans." He told a news conference, however, that the Legion's recommendation for a permanent administrator "no criticism" of Gen. Omar Bradley, present V. A. administrator.

O'Neil said that Bradley presumably will return to the army after completing a military mission in Europe.

8-Day Rail Strike Ends

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13 (AP)—About 1,900 operating employees of the Union Railroad, on strike the past eight days in a demand for a 50 cents hourly wage raise and other benefits, agreed to return to their jobs today. The return also would end the idleness of 15,500 steelworkers' employees at four Pittsburgh district plants of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, served by the inter-plant railroad. Both Carnegie-Illinois and Union Railroad are subsidiaries of U. S. Steel Corporation.

A joint statement issued last night by railroad officials and negotiators of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Railroad Trainmen said the workers were to receive an immediate 15 cents-an-hour pay raise plus any additional increase which might be agreed upon in "national wage determinations."

Florida Man Found Dead in Car at Woodstock

Elliot F. Wood, 40, of Florida, who was apparently stricken with a heart attack while driving on the Woodstock-West Hurley road near the White Horse Inn, was found dead in the auto which had struck a tree just before noon today.

The man had been visiting his brother-in-law, William Pierpont, at Woodstock and was on his way toward West Hurley when he suffered the attack, according to John Metzger of the State Police.

Dr. Franz Cohen of Woodstock, Coroner Ernest A. Kelly of Kingston and the sheriff's office were notified. The authorities indicated that the man had suffered a heart attack.

Florida Man Found Dead in Car at Woodstock

Thomas Windle of 159 Holmes street, Bellville, N. J., driving a tractor-trailer truck of the John S. Geiger's Son trucking firm of 83 Hartford street, Newark, N. J., lost control of the vehicle last evening at the Malden overpass over the West Shore Railroad tracks when he was blinded by headlights on an approaching car and his truck struck the overpass girder. The trailer, loaded with empty ale bottles became detached from the tractor and toppled over the embankment to the railroad right of way below. It did not fall on the tracks.

"Windle, driving south, struck the right-hand girder of the overpass and the front end of the tractor was badly damaged. Windle escaped with a cut on the head. The accident happened about 7:30 p. m. today."

Senators of Both Parties Oppose Special Session for European Aid

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Influential senators threw cold water today on suggestions for a special session of Congress to deal with emergency aid for Europe.

Senator Milliken (R-Colo.) told a reporter that members of the Senate would hardly upon a call of a special session upon a hullabaloo basis.

Milliken is chairman of the Republican conference, which includes all Republican senators. Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.), president pro tempore, and McNamara (D-Ill.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate Republican policy group, previously had frowned on calling the legislators back before next January.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, Democratic Party whip, said he knew of no plans for a special session and that if one were called Congress probably would spend most of the time "talking about politics" and the 1948 election.

"The decision is one for President Truman," Lucas added.

Aboard the battleship Missouri, which is bringing President Truman back from the Inter-American Defense Conference in Rio de Janeiro, White House aides indicated the Chief executive has yet to be convinced that a special session is needed.

Mr. Truman's last public announcement on the subject was at a news conference August 31, when he said he saw nothing at the moment which would require the presence of Congress before the regular session next January 5.

He added, however, that he would not hesitate to make a special session call if this became necessary. Since then, Secretary of State Marshall has indicated strongly he thinks there is need for stopgap action by Congress until the Marshall Plan of providing material aid for a program of European self-help can be put into effect.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okl.) said he saw "no reason" for a special session and another Democrat, Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, declared there is "no need to call Congress back until somebody is willing to make some specific proposals to us."

Both Democrats and Republicans said that a better idea might be to call back only the Senate and House committees which must complete preliminary action upon any European relief legislation.

Vandenberg offered this proposal first, suggesting that committees handling foreign relations and appropriations take up any foreign aid emergency which might develop.

Chairman Bridges (R-N. H.) already has asked his Senate appropriations committee to meet here a week from today to consider a War Department problem on which he gave no details. However, the War Department announced later that England has asked the United States to take over a larger portion of the cost of governing the joint British-

American occupied zone in Germany, now shared 50-50.

A check today showed that only four of the 21 senators on the appropriations committee have promised to be present. They are Bridges, Cordon (R-Ore.), Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Thomas.

Thomas said that even if a quorum is obtained "there is nothing we can do now other than say we approve or disapprove something."

The last Congress provided $600,000,000 to meet the occupation expenses in Germany, Japan and other areas and this was expected to be enough until July 1 of next year.

If England is unable to meet her half of the German occupation costs under an agreement made in December last year, Senator Thomas said, the United States "probably must pay them or march out of Germany, and we can't do that right now."

Senator Milliken said it would be "unwise" to act until members of Congress now touring Europe "have a chance to have their ideas jelled and conclusions formed."

"They are over there now or soon will be to learn the facts," he added. "Until they have the facts in hand they cannot and should not act."

To date most demands for a special session have come from Democrats, including Senators Hatch (D-N. M.), O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.). No Republican lawmaker has publicly favored the idea.

No Action Is Required On Hotel

New Yorkers Notified About Provisions of City Code Relative to Business Places

Exchange Letters

Schwenk's Statement Brings Ewig Ruling to Him, Buyers

The two New York parties who recently announced plans to open a hotel and restaurant in the former S. D. Coykendall mansion were advised through action of two local officials, that the local zoning law must be considered if a restaurant is to be established on the property, it was learned today. Such action is not required for the establishment of a hotel in a residential zone, according to the communication, and one of them by Corporation Counsel Arthur B. Ewig, indicates that a restaurant in the building is possible if it is for the use of hotel guests.

Plans for operation of the former mansion as a hotel and restaurant, were announced Tuesday by Gino Catalano, formerly of New York and now of New Paltz. The business, he said, under projected plans, will be operated by Mr. Catalano's wife, Stella Catalano and Mary Cappola of New York.

Both women were notified of the provisions of the local zoning laws through the local officials.

Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk first called attention to the need for observance of local zoning regulations in a letter to the corporation counsel.

The letters exchanged follow:

Schwenk's Opinion

Dear Mr. Ewig:

According to a news article in Tuesday's Freeman the S. D. Coykendall residence on West Chestnut Street has been sold to certain New York parties who are now making alterations to the property in preparation of establishing there a restaurant and hotel.

Under section 4 of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Kingston a hotel may be established in a residential district but a restaurant cannot be established in a residential district but must be located in a business district. West Chestnut street is in the residential district. Whether a restaurant could not be established in the S. D. Coykendall residence unless by vote of the Common Council the Coykendall property were taken out of the residential district and placed in a business district. Whether the Common Council would vote for such an amendment would depend greatly, as it has in the past, on the attitude of the adjoining property owners.

If you agree with my interpretation of the zoning law herein expressed, and if you have not already done so, may I suggest that the reported new owners of the Coykendall property be advised of the provisions of the zoning law before they proceed to spend funds in renovating the property in preparation of the establishment of a restaurant.

Yours truly,
JOHN J. SCHWENK

Counsel Ewig's Reply

Dear Mr. Schwenk:

I am enclosing herewith copy of a communication I have addressed to the reported purchasers of the Coykendall property. The letter was sent to the best addresses available. Whether or not they will be received, we do not know. I permit me to make the observation that while the property may not be able to be used as a restaurant, the owner can conduct a hotel, as you have already indicated, in which connection food may be served to hotel guests. It is my understanding that a hotel or lodging house is a permitted use.

75-Cent Butter Leads to Arrest for 3,600 Pounds

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Bargain prices in butter, the F.B.I. announced, led yesterday to the arrest of a New York dairy supplies operator on a charge of illegal possession of 3,600 pounds of butter allegedly stolen from the U. S. Navy Stores Station in Bayonne, N. J.

The theft of 15,000 pounds from the naval unit was disclosed by the F.B.I. with the arrest of a man booked as Abe Burkan, 43, owner of the Tip Top Dairies, Inc., a dairy supply house at 400 Madison street.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Martin McLaughlin said Burkan refused to identify the person from whom he allegedly acquired the butter at 60 cents a pound, and stated that three persons unknown to him brought the butter to his place of business in a van on August 6.

The F.B.I. said suspicious customers notified authorities when a butter and eggs company offered the butter at 75 cents a pound, considerably below current trade prices.

Burkan was held by U. S. Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter in $2,500 bail for the Federal Grand Jury.

The F.B.I. said 2,680 pounds of the butter was seized in a warehouse where it had been stored.

Postwar Construction Reaches Peak in August

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics said today that construction activity reached a new postwar peak in August.

Expenditures and employment both rose to the highest monthly levels in nearly five years. The bureau said 1,948,000 workers were engaged on new construction and major repair projects costing $1,400,000,000 for the month.

The employment figure is up 14 per cent and 235,000 workers compared with August a year ago. The greatest increase was in employment on private residential building, which engaged two-fifths of all construction workers. This represented a shift from private non-residential construction work, in which there was an employment decline.

The bureau said expenditures for all types of construction and repairs amounted to $3,500,000,000 during the first eight months of this year, or about $2,000,000,000 increase over the same 1946 period.

Disfavor Policeman

Residents of Napanoch, which has had a special policeman during the summer months, now believe the special officer is not necessary and the money spent for the police protection can be "put to better use," according to a petition filed with the town board at its meeting this week. The petition was signed by 106 residents of the hamlet. The petition was filed. The officer on duty during the summer months concluded his special duties last Sunday.

Want 'Solid' Midwest

Omaha, Sept. 13 (AP)—Republican state party chairman representing 19 midwest states will meet here Monday in what a spokesman described today as part of an effort to establish a midwest equivalent of the "Solid South." As an anti-Communist National Republican Convention in Philadelphia next year, the midwest Republican State Chairmen's Association would represent 428 of the 1,093 delegates.

North Front

Harry Kaplan, whose term expired September 8.

Information aimed at proving that the municipality has a right to the use of a street or road on Front street, Kingston Point, was presented by City Engineer Arthur B. Hallinan, and referred to Corporation Counsel Arthur B. Ewig for further action.

The city engineer said that considerable research indicated to him that property in question owned by the Wiltwyck Holding and Trading Company, leading into the back of A. R. Newcomb Oil Company and the Rondout Yacht Club, is a public thoroughfare.

The road, he said, had been blocked off by a gate, and that he had telephoned the company and advised them to remove a lock which had been placed on the gate.

Traces History

The engineer traced the history of the property from the time in 1796 when it was included in the Moses Cantine patent, to the present, and the concluded that in view of the fact that the original patentee land owners and subsequent owners had set aside the land for public use and the public has been uninterrupted use of it for more than 150 years.

"It is my belief the land in question covered by a deed from the Rhinebeck-Kingston Ferry Company to the Wiltwyck Holding and Trading Company . . . is burdened with a superior easement to the public."

Murphy Is Secretary

Commissioner Patrick T. Murphy was elected secretary of the board, a position formerly held by Commissioner Kaplan, whose term expired.

The board granted, subject to control of the water department, a permit to Morris Salkind of Chapel street, to hook a private water line on a line now leading into Clearwater Park.

Partial payments were authorized to work now under contract. They were: $987.94 to John H. Matthews, plumbing contractor, who relocated curb cocks on North Front street; $3,532.60 to the Raymond Conway Construction Co., which is constructing a quonset type storehouse building for the B.P.W. on East Strand, and $2,701.93 to Francisco Valerio, who is building the drainage system on Broadway from Chestnut to Rogers street.

The board approved the temporary appropriation of 25 workmen to the Department of Public Works.

Porter Sees Hard Sledding in View For Little Man

Former O.P.A. Price Boss Looks Gloomily at Future; Sees an Economic 'Bust'

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 13 (AP)—Paul Porter, last federal price boss under O.P.A., looked gloomily today at America's economic future, and said the nation would be lucky if it escaped a "bust."

The towering former price administrator, now in private practice as an attorney, said in an interview that the nation's little man faces ever-tougher sledding—and there's nothing much that Congress can do about it.

"There are certain things that could have been done," he said, "but I question if it is not too late. The consumer has been left to the mercy of government appeals and exhortations, which so far have been futile."

He said he concurred with the National Association of Manufacturers that production could tick prices, but he was bitterly critical of American industry for refusing to expand to meet demand. "It is a matter of record," he said, "that the research director of United States Steel said quite frankly that they won't expand because they expect a depression."

Porter, who resisted abrupt junking of price-controls in 1946, said some sections of the nation's industry had adopted the "boom-and-bust" philosophy, and observed:

"We'll be lucky if they aren't right—if we don't have a bust. If we do have a depression, it'll make 1933 and 1921 look like tea parties. And the fellow on the street corner won't sell apples. They'll throw rocks."

New Bank Examiners

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Seven new bank examiners have been selected by the State Banking Department at a salary of $3,720.

DUSO Gridiron Outlook Finds Maroons and Middies on Top

Port Is Question; N. F. A. Seen Weakest in Circuit

With Monday morning quarterbacks already in shape by picking Kingston High School's football team to repeat as DUSO champs again this fall, not so much optimism is being accorded two of the three other schools in the loop—Newburgh and Port Jervis.

Basis for selecting Coach Will Burke's gridiron machine as a repeater has, of course, lots of backing up. Minus only four of their veterans from last year, the Maroons do stand in a formidable position to come home with the flag again this fall. However, the road to victory will not be easy, especially if Middletown, always a tough customer, has anything to say about it.

Not only the Blue Devils should give Kingston a lot to worry about this year, either. Reports from Port Jervis hint that Coach Al Chase has a likely looking squad which he is working with and although it may not be a pennant winner it could give other clubs plenty of troublesome times come Friday evenings and Saturday afternoons.

But first a glimpse at the outlook down in Middletown where Coach Rodiek has been greeted with a good bunch of material. The Middies, a 31 to 7 winner over Kingston in the first game last fall, this week welcomed the return of Vally Cross and Lou "Chil" De Stefano who should go a long way in making the Middies a strong contender this year.

Cross, the regular blocking back last year, will resume that position while DeStefano, Cross' understudy in 1946, will be used more in the running department. While all this has been going on the Middies have shifted Hank Kindberg, last year's star at the backfield while Hugh Summers, All-DUSO guard, has been moved over to tackle.

Right now the Middies line up with Gordie Hallenbeck and Tom Mitchell, ends; Don Benedetto and Dick Pizzia, guards; Summers and Pete Scull, tackles and Harold Schwelch, center. In addition to DeStefano, Cross and Kindberg, in the secondary, Rodiek has some capable operatives in Charlie Van Gelder, Ross Newkirk, Joe Berthoff and Sal Sordella.

paper the Middies look very good and barring key injuries the team should have a lot to say as to just who will grab the DUSO crown this fall. This, pre-season dopesters rate the Maroons on top with Middletown in very close second spot.

Outlook at Port
Despite Al Chase's pessimistic viewpoint of his gridiron when he recently quoted as saying, "We were terrible last year and since we've got a lot of the same guys back it stands to reason that we'll be terrible this year," Port Jervis does have several veterans back this fall.

Included on the list are Port's two backs, Ray Nicolette and Don Marando, two guys who rate with the best. Other returning backs are Pat Crowley, Dale Drinke and Joe Pagano.

True, Port dropped six straight league tussles last year but loop teams will concur that the Tri-Staters always gave up a good battle.

From last year's club Chase has lost Sandro Panesio, guard; John Kent, tackle; Tom DeMarco and Lynn Platt, backs.

This year Chase will work with Dick Freytag and Chuck Salmon, guards; Al Smith, center; Charlie Westfall and either Joe Pinkalla or Jack Conroy, ends; Earl Grathwohl and John Gibbons, tackles. The new backs include Phil Chase, Bob Hoppey, Joe Edwards and Joe Barber.

As far as the first team is concerned, Port looks in good shape but lack of experienced reserves makes the club a question mark.

N.F.A. Outlook Gloomy
The loop coach who may have the only real reason to use the crying towel in large numbers this year is Newburgh's Stan Hemingway who was greeted by just four regulars when his gridiron started workouts recently.

Newburgh has lost such great linemen as Al Freeman and Stencil Sylvester, Lou D'Addio, Stencil Scott and Sal Augello, etc.

The Little Tin Whistle

By JOE KELLY
(Vacation Substitute for C. J. Tiano)

STILL FAVORS BOXING: Although he has seen many a great professional prize fighter, and a few of the champs too, Ralph Mann gets a great kick out of watching the amateurs at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium. He said so Thursday night at the Barone-Dawson show. Although he never campaigned under the ring floodlights, Ralph knows what it is to be under the glare. He's Kingston's oldtime balancing champ, who played in some of the leading theatres juggling a parlor lamp on the end of a buggy whip, supported in his chin. That wasn't all, he thought nothing of balancing a 125-pound freight truck on his head while he juggled the scales at only 135 himself. His first public appearance was at Holy Cross Hall, 40 years ago, after he had worked a year perfecting his act. From there on it was Hammerstein's old Victoria Theatre at Broadway and 42nd in New York, and a long list of other headline engagements. These days he summers in Kingston and winters in Florida. Frank "Santo" O'Reilly, one of Sheriff George C. Smith's jailors, had no trouble getting used to all the iron in the Ulster county jail when he donned a badge some years back. Iron has been his life. When he was a strong muscular youth he shed many a trotter and pacer, and drove them too. If you want to know the fine points of any horse, just drive in and have a chat with Frank. You won't want to leave. If you're brought to see him, he'll make damn sure you won't leave. . . . If fishing's your sport, talk to his colleague, Keates Young, the Milton gentleman. Then, for a double-check on the habits of the funny tribe, run over to Chris Flanagan's law office and he'll drop everything. Maybe he'll even tell you that he's a lawyer, if his son Mike isn't around him. . . . The time to start at 1 p. m. . . . If you want to hold up a whole garage, spin over to Port Jervis and get P. J. Murphy. He's talking about the good old basketball days in Kingston. If that doesn't work start in on Town of Esopus Post, American Legion as a subject. . . . Charlie Rosa won't mind halting a taxi or two either to chat about one of those pickers he hooked or a deer he bagged. . . . And, if you want to get George Gottlieb's attention away from his fruit business, start something about golf rides. . . . Guernsey Burger, Sr., keeps orders in the mens' dressing rooms by shifting off unwanted visitors. . . . We hear Special Officer Joe Myers and Charlie Molvin, two old National Guard boxers, aren't on speaking terms because of a stop sign argument.

HERE AND THERE: Two red-hot drivers whose rivalry has been so intense that they are now tied for top honors in the national champion point standings will headline the field of entries at the big car races, Reading Fairgrounds, Sunday. They are Wild Bill Holland of Bridgeport, Conn., and Ted Horn of Paterson, N. J. . . . The time to start at 1 p. m. . . . James Campbell pens from Ruby that he's interested in contacting a school or organization needing a soccer coach. Claims to have captained Bethlehem Steel Club 1914-1921, National Champions 1914-1918, also toured Sweden and Denmark with team. . . . One of those Kingston Dodge rooters throughout the season was a downtown merchant, affiliated with B'nai B'rith, who gets his canned goods addressed to "Moe Sullivan." Looks like Solomon will either have to straighten out the clerk who sends 'em or transfer to the K. of C.

HEADED FOR NEW YORK GIANTS: Local baseball fans who watch the New York Giants in action next summer may be seeing a familiar face in action, according to a report issued by the Giants Jottings, official publication of the National League club. Wes Westrum, former Kingston Recreation catcher during the war years, led the American Association in homers this summer with 20. Wes, who batted a net .310 for the Minneapolis club this year, appears a sure bet for a five-year contract with the Giants next year, the publication says. Tommy Maines, former three-letter man at K.H.S., and later halfback at Syracuse University and with the Paterson Panthers, is a busy fellow these days conducting his new store at 360 Broadway. Tom's new establishment deals in school supplies and accessories. Reports have it that the "Cavik" will be playing semi-pro football this year with the Poughkeepsie club. . . . Barbers who'll buzz-buzz about boxers: Leo Smith, former promoter, who put on some good shows at old Woodliff Park, Poughkeepsie, and Billy Penaro, who used to handle Iron Man's Yanketee, Joe Pantillo and a few other local favorites of a few years back. . . . Saw Johnny Carpinio at the boxing show the other night, looking a big (big bit) heavier than when he was the uncrowned lightweight champion of the Hudson valley, while wearing the same smile. . . . Bob Steele, absent for a few cards, was back as a judge. He knows what it is to be in there swinging, having done his share of boxing and wrestling before becoming an officer in Uncle Sam's Army. . . . Printing is his trade, basketball his favorite sport, and cooking his hobby. Who? Andy Campbell, our intrepid pal. If you don't believe us, ask the Missus and some of those ladies who raved about that meat loaf he baked. Stick to it Andy, remember Jimmy Savo added to his popularity with "One Meat Ball." . . . Independent Bowling Jottings: "Tis rumored Harry Piere's terrible 103 was due to a sore arm. . . . Imagine Rudy Kubiak missing the opening matches. . . . Bill Davis is hoping for cooler weather so he can be on time. . . . P. J. Beichert all smiles after twinning jumps and making three straight holes. . . . Eddie Muller has developed a hook or what have you, presiding. . . . Pop Van Alstyne still as smooth as ever. . . . Ditto Jimmy Foe.

LAST BLOW: Charlie Tiano reports for his sports editing job Monday, back from a well-earned vacation, so we'll say so long. From now on look for his "In the Trough," and later "In the Pocket," once the bowling season gets underway. For those who asked how "The Little Tin Whistle" got its title, watch Tiano. Of course you readers had no warning, and just had to take this column anyhow. Hope you got a little kick out of reading it. I did writing it.

Katrine and Glasco to Meet In Trap Match on Sunday
Lineups were announced today by Los Hotelling, secretary of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club for the challenge trap match with the Glasco Rod and Gun Club at the former's grounds Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The team representing Lake Katrine will include John Van Gonsie, Ed Modjeska, Frank Chaffee, Ray Cautin, and Ross Cole. Glasco's team will have Frank Bruno, Percy Briddy, Bill Lang, Frank Maurer and George Briddy. According to Hotelling, a second match may be held. The public is invited.

The Katrine group, in a meeting Tuesday night at the Rose Marie Cabins, decided to close the hunting preserve during the state pheasant days from noon on October 20 through and including Saturday, October 25. No hunting will be allowed on the posted preserve.

In accordance with the ruling, the club will hold its regular shooting days on October 26, November 2, 9 and 16. No birds will be released until Saturday, October 25 at 5 p. m., it has been announced.

Secretary Hotelling also announced that a few new members will be taken in shortly due to some present members who have failed to pay dues. The exact ruling of the organization could be found in the club's constitution. The foundation for the club house grounds was dug last Sunday morning by 30 members. The schedule called for concrete to arrive at the area about 8:30 o'clock this morning when morning workers were to help spread the concrete. The club hopes to have the building in readiness by the first or second week in October.

Last week's trap and skeet shoot found John Van Gonsie with 47-50, Ed Modjeska 46-50, Frank Chaffee 45-50, while Chet Joy hit 48-50 and Bob Martin 24-25 in the skeet shoot.

Loaded for Army Game
Villanova, Pa., Sept. 13. (N.E.A.)—Several 1946 starters will have a hard time regaining berths on Villanova's starting football team. Jordan Oliver has his hands full naming a starting team for the opener with Kings Point here September 20. The following week at West Point, Villanova attempts to snap Army's three-year unbeaten skin. Reserve ball-toters of 1946 are challenging veterans. Although Joe Rogers wound up his freshman season as one of the top eastern groovers, he's getting plenty of competition from Al Schmid, who has recovered from the injuries that kept him on the sidelines practically all of last autumn.

Cardinal Obits Filed Again As Birds Win 8 to 7 'Saver'

BY JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cardinal obituaries were once again shoved aside today as the still breathing St. Louis club showed the baseball world that they do not intend to relinquish their crown without a last ditch struggle.

The Redbirds' nerve-tingling 8-7 "saver" victory over the Dodgers last night rescued them from practical elimination.

So once again the Cards are four and a half games in back of front running Brooklyn, but this time they have only 17 games left to play while the Dodgers have 14.

Always Bounce Back
On numerous occasions this season, Eddie Dyer's amazing crew appeared on the verge of complete collapse, but always managed to rebound with more fight than ever to get back in the running.

But yesterday not many of the 31,957 wide-eyed onlookers that packed Sportsman's Park in St. Louis would have given a plugged nickel for the Cards' chances as they cringed in from the field for their turn at bat in the last of the ninth.

They went to work on Hank Bernheim, fifth Dodge hurler, in earnest, driving him off the mound and gave the coup de grace to Ralph Branca, Brooklyn ace, a two-run double by Enos Slaughter.

Lombardi-Dickson Today
The win squared the vital three-game series at one win apiece and put the issue directly up to little Vic Lombardi, Dodge left-hander and Murry Dickson, St. Louis right-hander, who oppose each other in this afternoon's rubber game.

The New York Yankees, apparently just playing off their string, were beaten again for their eighth loss in the last 13 starts. When they bowed to the Detroit Tigers 7-2 at the Yankee Stadium. Despite their poor record, any combination of three Yank victories or three Detroit defeats will clinch the American League flag for the Yankees. The only combination holds true for the Boston Red Sox who fell to third place, a half game behind the Tigers when they were beaten by the fourth place Cleveland Indians 11-8.

Kiner Hits Two More
Ralph Kiner set one record and tied three when he belted two homers to lead the Pirates to a 4-3 victory over the Boston Braves in Pittsburgh. The round trippers were the 48th and 49th to give him undisputed possession of the home run leadership in the majors. Johnny Mize of the New York Giants, who was idle, was 47.

The Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phils 4-3 and 7-5 to wipe the smile deeper into the National League cellar. Ralph Hamner gained his first National League win the opener.

Jack Kramer held the Washington Senators to nine hits as the St. Louis Browns combed three Nat hurlers for 15 to win 9-3. The Senators presented a revamped batting order with Earl Wynn, the starting pitcher, hitting in the sixth slot.

Error Loses Game
Catcher Mike Guerra's wild throw in the 10th inning hit pinch hitter Ralph Hodgin in the back and enabled Luke Appling to score from third with the run that gave the Chicago White Sox a Philadelphia over the Athletics in Philadelphia.

The scheduled game between the Giants and Reds in Cincinnati was postponed by rain.

Kiner Has New Mark
Pittsburgh, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ralph Kiner, the husky Pittsburgh Pirate left fielder who has taken over the National League home run leadership—and established a new major league record doing it—looms today as the man who has a fighting chance to break Babe Ruth's all-time season high of 60.

Kiner smashed out two homers to drive in three runs last night and carry the Pirates to a 4-3 win over the Boston Braves. They were his 48th and 49th of the season and broke the 47-all tie with Johnny Mize, the tobacco-chewing New York Giant whom Kiner had been chasing all season.

But more than that, the homers brought Kiner's total to eight in four consecutive games—breaking the record of seven which Tony Lazzeri, late New York Yankee star, established in 1936.

Harwood Race Sunday
New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—A fleet of 50 to 60 motorboats will race the 30 miles around Manhattan Island tomorrow in the first annual since 1934 of the Harwood Trophy Race, or as those who have traversed the course term it, the "Driftwood Derby."

Turns to Coaching
Niagara Falls, N. Y. (AP)—Ed Burns joins the list of former Villanova football players who is a member of the coaching ranks. The ex-Marine is backfield coach at Niagara University. He performed for Villanova in 1943.

Battered by Five
Cincinnati—When Ewell Blackwell reeled off his winning streak of 16 this season, the Reds' right-hander battered by five the longest National League skinn since Carl Hubbell recorded 16 for the Giants in 1936.

During the national championships tournament held last month, a large delegation of eastern and midwestern players made plans to attend the All-Western Bridge Championships at the Del Coronado Hotel, Coronado, Calif., Nov. 7 to 11 inclusive. I would like to give the delegation a word of advice. The Pacific coast players bid their hands a little differently than we do in the east. They rely perhaps much on conventional or system bidding, but they are expert when it comes to the play of the cards. Last year I had the good fortune to win the open pair championship at Coronado with Clarence A. Strouse, Jr., of Altadena, Calif., and I hope to be on hand to defend with him this year.

Then they took two rounds of trumps, led the queen of clubs and took the finesse. East won and came back with a spade, which West won. A diamond was returned and the contract was set.

That was not the way Strouse played it. He refused to win the first spade trick. He let East hold his king. East came back with a spade and Strouse won; then he took two rounds of trumps follow-

Pardon for Surrender

Athens, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Greek parliament early today passed a bill to offer pardon to guerrillas in rebellion against the government, provided they surrendered within a month.

Two Children Victims

New Orleans, Sept. 13 (AP)—State and Federal health authorities were working in southwest Louisiana today in an effort to halt an epidemic of animal sleeping sickness which has spread to the populace with fatal results to two children. The disease, tentatively diagnosed as equine (horse) encephalomyelitis has killed 2800 horses and mules in that section. Harry Demette, five year old son of a Vermilion Parish tenant farmer, died of the disease in Charity Hospital here yesterday. The boy's sister, Eva, two years old, died Tuesday. The disease is believed to be spread from animals to humans by mosquitoes.

Ford Worker's Strike

Milan, Italy, Sept. 13 (AP)—A strike of some 1,000,000 farm laborers and sharecroppers in Northern Italy entered its sixth day today despite government efforts toward settlement in Rome conferences between Premier Alcide De Gasperi, and labor leaders. The strike has delayed the harvest of the Po Valley rice crop, badly needed in an Italian economy still struggling to recover from the war.
